AFFAIRS IN BROOKLYN.

SHARP CENSURE FOR THE CONTRACTOR. NO PLACE FOR MANY INSANE PEOPLE BECAUSE

OF SLOW WORK AT ST. JOHNLAND. President Gott, of the Department of Charities and Correction, sent a communication, which was read at the meeting of the Board of Supervisors yesterday after noon, urgently demanding the enforcement of the provisions of the contract under which John H. O'Rourke is bailding four cottages to accommodate 500 insanc patients at the St. Johnland County Farm. There are four large brick buildings under way and President

Gott wrote:

The delays in the completion of the work, the limited number of the force employed to perform it, and the general indifference of the contractor, oblige us to make, to your honorable body this formal protest and this urgent demand. We are poweriess to interfere with the work even if we had the dealre, but as the contract was awarded nearly two years ago, and contains ample provision by which its prompt execution can be enforced, we feel that we would be dereliet in our duty to the public and to the unfortunate under our eare if we allowed any considerations of mere official courtesy to prevent us from making anjurgent demand that we shall be afforded proper facilities for the care of the insane by the prompt completion of the contract in question, which is in the power of your honorable body to compel.

The contract originally called for the completion of the buildings on January 1, 1891, but the Board gave the contractor five months, from April 16, to complete two of the buildings, and there is no prospect of such completion next month. President Gott

In the interest, of decency and humanity, this Board long ago vacated the hasement wards of the County Building at Flatbush, as space at St. Johnland became available, but as the numbers to be cared for are constantly increasing, we will have no alternative except to occupy them again for the lack of these delayed buildings at St. Johnland, on which we had relied for the sarrying out of our plans for the care and betterment of the condition of the insunc.

Unless your honorable body takes prompt action and pro-ceeds in accordance with specifications quoted, to compel the prompt completion of the buildings, we shall be under the necessity, moreover, of not only reoccupying the aban-doned basement wards, but of asking your honorable body to greet temporary structures either at Flatbush or St. to creet temporary structures either at Flatbush or St.

Mr. O'Rourke had an opportunity to offer an explanation before the Board. He said that the delay was due to the filling up of the ground, and about 100,000 bricks a day were being laid. In reply t questions, Mr. O'Rourke said that two of the new buildings, which were to have been done on the first of last January, would be completed by next January if the weather was good and no unforeseen delays occurred. The completion of the other two buildings would depend upon the weather of the winter. The whole matter was disposed of by referring it to the County Farm Committee and the counsel of the Board.

The property-holders of the Fifteenth, Sixteenth, Seventeen, Eighteenth and Twenty-first wards held another enthusiastic meeting last night, at No. 754 Grand-st., for the purpose of deciding on the best methods of abolishing the nuisances on Newtown Creek. Fox, of the Seventeenth Ward, made an address on behalf of the taxpayers of the Seventeenth Ward, and severely criticised the boards of health of the cities and States that allowed such nuisances to exist. Should you wait upon him, he will tell you as he always did: 'I know nothing about it?' or 'I will see about it?' Mr. Garretson declared that the only way to succeed was to apply to the United States Courts. He ended his address by denouncing District Attorney Ridgway. These remarks caused a commotion, and the chairman called Mr. Garretson to order. Before he sat down he declared that he would bring the matter himself before the United States Courts.

HE COULD BUY ONLY A LITTLE PISTOL.

The reason that Henry Miller did not succeed in tilling his wife, his mother-in-law, Mrs. Nelson, and mself at Great Neck on Tuesday night was owing to the fact that the shooting was done with a 22-calibre revolver, little more than a toy pistol. Miller was unable to buy a pistol of heavier calibre on account of being short of funds. Miller was under the care of Drs. Both had recovered sufficiently from their wounds as to be able to be about. Miller, however, seemed to be considerably inconvenienced on account of the firing of two of the bullets into his mouth. He had much difficulty in talking, and said his wounds were painful. Miller denied that he drank to excess, and said that on Tuesday evening he merely took brandy to brace himself up, as he expected to have a stormy interview with his mother-in-law when he went to her house to try to patch up a reconciliation with his wife. Justice Mora committed Miller without bail to the Queens County Jail at Long Island City to await the action of the Grand Jury.
